OBSERVER FILES REVEAL INQUITOUS CHARACTER OF FORMER COUNTY BOSS

Reproduction of Editorials Show Acheson as He Was When a Candidate

THOSE SHAMEFUL ATTACKS

Says It Is Not Right and Just to Be Charged as Thief By Former Office Holders

Under the heading of "Acheson Said," the Washington Record is reproducing extracts of editorials and news articles from former Congressman E. F. Acheson's personal organ, the Washington Observer, during the campaign of 1905. That was the year when W. H. Berry was a candidate for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, as well as the time when the first concerted fight was directed against the domination of Mr. Acheson whose political sway over Washington county was more despotic than was ever exercised over Pennsylvania by the late M. S. Quay. By the organization of the Citizens party in the county and a fusion with the Democrats Mr. Acheson was given a fight that he considered so grave that he elected himself county chairman to personally direct his forces against the rebels who threatened his supremacy.

In order to cover up his own political iniquities, Mr. Acheson's newspapers directed their energy to preaching party regularity and danger to the national Republican policies. In view of the fact that Mr. Acheson is now the chief boss of the Keystone party in Washington county, and his papers are working as hard against the Republican party as they worked for it when Mr. Acheson was in Congress and handed out the Washington county plums, these reproductions from Acheson's Observer furnish entertaining reading. Some of them follow:

Washington Observer, Oct. 31, 1905—"Most of the taxpayers of Washington county have not forgotten what it meant to be under Democratic rule and administration. No Republican can afford at this time to desert the party because a few men dissatisfied with its affairs and unable to satisfy their personal ambitions, have joined forces with the Democracy."

Washington Observer, Oct. 14, 1905—"These Citizens leaders care nothing for the Republican party, nor for its principles. They care less for reform. They are in this political campaign for their own profit. And the Republicans of this county are beginning to realize the meaning and forces of these men to defeat the Republican candidates. They are the enemies of the party and worse than the enemies of good government."

Washington Observer, Oct. 12, 1905—"Today efforts are being made to disrupt the party in this county. There are some men who claim to be Republicans who are fighting today shoulder to shoulder with the enemies of the Republican party for their own personal and selfish ends, a few county offices. And these traitor Republicans, baffled in their ambitions, are appealing to the good people of this county to vote for men who are neither

Albert Thomas, Formerly of Charleroi, Favored for Good Job.

Albert G. Thomas of New Orleans, formerly of Charleroi, and a son of Capt. G. W. Thomas, has received the contract of completing a drainage canal in Louisiana near New Iberia. The canal when finished will be about 9 miles long and will be 4 feet across top and 30 feet wide on the bottom, with 6 feet of water. The operation of this canal will reclaim many thousands of acres of unclaimed land, besides being of immense value to all other lands tributary, and gives great satisfaction to all the citizens and taxpayers.

Dr. Manon Describes Conditions in New Mexico.

An exhibition of white Indian corn, some remarkably fine specimens of pop corn, maize, peanuts, Kaffir corn and a small bale of alfalfa in Pipers' drug store window is attracting much local attention, particularly when it is known that the exhibit is the product from the farm of two former Charleroi citizens—Wm. Parks and J. W. Springer, at Artesia, New Mexico. These specimens were brought back by Dr. J. W. Manon, who, with his 11-year-old son, Paul, spent a month or more in that section of the country.

Dr. Manon returned this week and gives a most interesting account of his trip and observations. He states that Mr. Parks, who went to Artesia for the benefit of his daughter's health, is making good there. He is noted as one of the most progressive farmers and bears the distinction of producing the best "first year" crops in that section. Artesia is in the center of a most fertile country, where nearly everything can be produced. The land is irrigated by artesian wells from 600 to 1,200 feet in depth, and five crops of alfalfa, which is one of the staple cash crops, can be raised in a season. Cotton, peanuts and melons are also produced in profusion. Dr. Manon says that the melon crop is a marvel, and he saw better melons fed to the hogs than are ever bought in Charleroi.

One of the marvels of that country is a shallow salt lake 21 miles from Artesia. The water is not more than 15 inches deep and the salt deposits a crust about an inch thick along the

SECOND SUIT FOR DAMAGES STARTED BY MRS. HAMILTON

Sum of $25,000 Claimed from Pittsburg Railways Company by Reason of Injuries to Herself.

Mrs. Ida Belle Hamilton of Roanoke, in behalf of herself, has filed a suit for $25,000 damages against the Pittsburg Railways company, as a result of the accident at the Beechwood boulevard crossing of the railways company, near Charleroi, the latter part of June, when the husband of Mrs. Hamilton and a son, Leroy Hamilton, were killed. A few weeks ago Mrs. Hamilton filed a suit for $50,000 damages against the railways company in behalf of her children, Annie E. Hamilton, Mary B. Hamilton and Robert Hamilton, all of whom were injured in the crossing accident. The Hamiltons with Miss Blanche Matheny of McKeesport, were in an automobile. Miss Matheny, who was also injured, has a suit pending against the Railways company. W. E. Wale of Pittsburg and Melvaine and Williams of the Washington bar represent Mrs. Hamilton.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE ALONG RIVER

Government Men at Work Near Port Perry Installing New Crib, to be Largest in Entire Valley.

STEEL DRUMS PUT IN PLACE ON DAM

The U. S. Steamer Slackwater, Captain Jas. T. Nutt, whose headquarters are at Lock No. 4, North Charleroi, is at present engaged with a large crew of men and boats putting in a large crib near Port Perry, extending from the shore wall up river, a distance of about 500 feet. This is the largest crib of the kind ever built on the Monongahela river. Three large sections 160 feet each are now in proper position, and are being filled with stone.

Capt. Nutt has just completed repairs to the large steel drums at this point, which are now in good order, and in place on the dam. They are used in time of low water and are a decided help in retaining a boating stage in the pool up as far as Lock No. 3. They are a great improvement over the old splash board system, which has become obsolete.

Many minor repairs are being made to the gates and machinery at Lock No. 2, under the supervision of Lockmaster James S. Sweeney.

The U. S. dredge boat No. 1 and the Steamer Swan, are now deepening and widening the channel at the foot of Thirteenth street, Pittsburg.

Mark This, Mr. Voter!

From the Pittsburg Gazette Times

THE Philadelphia Ledger aptly describes W. H. Berry, the Socialist and Democrat who is running for Governor, as one representing "no definite political ideas or known political allegiance."

It says: "His party record is tortuous; his financial record dubious. He has impressed himself on the public clearly as a self-seeker." This is the man, Mr. Republican of little faith, that you are being asked by deserters to support for Governor in preference to John K. Tener, all his life a Republican and nominee of your party. "It is Berry who is trying to elect 11 Democrats to Congress from Pennsylvania. It is Berry's followers who are attempting to defeat Republican nominees for Legislature—in most cases with sorehead candidates who were fairly defeated at the Republican primaries. It is Berry who was lauded for two or three weeks hand running in this county by D. Clarence Gibboney, whose speeches were too foul, obscene and filthy to be reported in the newspapers. It is Berry to whom southern and eastern European Socialists of this county are looking to give them the kind of government and license they want. Isn't that a fine prospect for Pennsylvania? Smash the scheme by voting for the entire Republican ticket, and do your share toward forwarding restoration of complete prosperity!"

Thousands to Be in Parade

Prizes Will be Awarded From Reviewing Stand Near the Station.

The prizes of the best and most comic dressed persons participating in the Halloween celebration here Monday night will be awarded immediately following the parade. The reviewing stand will be at the corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue, front of the railroad station. All contestants are supposed to march there for inspection by the judges, after the parade.

Thousands will be in costume, it is expected. The phantom brigade will in all probability be here, and it may be assisted in its work by phantoms from other places along the valley.

MUCH TO COMMEND IN STATE

Trial Calls to Mind Some of Roosevelt Statements.

"STINK POT" CAMPAIGN

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail: Dear Sir—While reading the account of Mr. Tener's suit against E. A. Van Valkenberg for criminal libel, I recalled the words employed by Theodore Roosevelt while addressing the great meeting in the Pittsburg Exposition Building. On the stage back of him were seated most of the leaders of the Pittsburg Civic Commission, as well as a large number of Pittsburg's leading citizens. At the close of one of his strongest speeches for honesty in public life Col. Roosevelt turned to those back of him on the stage and in substance said: "And to you, Mr. R-former, I wish to say that there is much in Pennsylvania for which you should be thankful," and then he enumerated many of Pennsylvania's excellent laws and commended the manner in which they are being administered. After strongly advising moderation and common sense in all reform movements he clinched his arguments by saying: "I make no fine distinction between honest and still believes they were two great commandments, 'thou shalt not steal' and 'thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'"

Very respectfully,
Citizen.

Philadelphia North American Editor Is Held Under $5,000 Bail for Court Trial.

MAKES CLEAR STATEMENT

Mr. Tener the Only Witness Examined at Preliminary Hearing in Recently Instituted Libel Suit.

Before Police Magistrate Gallagher in Philadelphia yesterday Congressman John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor, emphatically denied under oath that he was an "associate of swindlers," as alleged in the Philadelphia North American, and after a three hour hearing, Edward A. Van Valkenberg, editor and president of the newspaper publishing the statement, was held in $5,000 bail for trial on the charge of criminally libelling the gubernatorial candidate, who brought the prosecution. Rudolph Blankenburg, a leader in many reform movements in Philadelphia and in the State, furnished the bond.

Mr. Tener was the only witness examined. He was represented by A. S. L. Shields and Francis Shunk Brown, and after a long examination by his attorneys he was subjected to a long and severe cross examination by former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mr. Van Valkenberg.

The gubernatorial candidate in his direct examination, generally, and specifically denied every charge made against him. The North American began its attack on October 13, and has continued daily ever since, charges that "John K. Tener is the business friend and associate of swindlers, convicted and unconvicted," that he "sold his name as president to a fraudulent corporation formed and conducted by these men, the consideration they voted him on the day he was elected being a salary of $5,000 a year and $50,000 in stock," that "by the use of his name as President and director of the swindling concern, they have sold its worthless stock to the public."

Mr. Tener denied all these charges and many others brought to his attention. He admitted that he had been induced to become president of the National Public Utilities Corporation by Frank L. Smart and William L. Chrisman, but that he resigned in March of this year after serving two months. He also admitted that he was given $50,000 in stock, but added that he had returned it because he had not earned it. He testified that he believed the company was legitimate and believed the men who had induced him to get into the company were honest and still believes they were honest.

Touching on the sale of his stock in the Security Life and Annuity company, he denied that the sale was not above-board. As Mr. Tener was leaving the magistrate's office after the hearing he was given a cheer by some of his enthusiastic supporters, which the candidate smilingly acknowledged. Last night Mr. Tener was busy campaigning in Philadelphia, making addresses in four different wards.

Stuart's Indorsement

"For nearly four years Edwin S. Stuart has conducted the affairs of Pennsylvania as its chief executive," says the Philadelphia Inquirer. "In the campaign of 1906 he was the Republican candidate for Governor. Rarely has there been a political battle such as that was. Mr. Stuart had led an honorable life, but that fact did not prevent the vilifiers of Philadelphia and the agitators from assailing him on the stump. The people were told that if elected the State would go to the dogs; that he did not own himself; that he was the candidate of the 'bosses,' and as such must bow to them. All sorts of evils were predicted.

"Not only was he the target for the coterie of political highwaymen in Philadelphia and for the hypocrites in policies everywhere to fire at but men entirely honest in their opinions—mistaken, but honest—argued and voted against him. Rudolph Blankenburg was one of those who stumped the State and did his best to defeat Stuart. William H. Berry was active in his denunciations.

"What happened? The majority of the people were not to be fooled. They supported Stuart and he was elected. And there has followed an administration that has proved to be a model. There is, and can be no just criticism of the Stuart administration. On the contrary it is admitted even by his former fierce opponents that the Republican administration of the affairs of Pennsylvania stands without a blemish.

"Today another Republican candidate, pledged to carry out the Stuart policies is before the people, and once more the same agitation is heard throughout the State. Tener cannot own himself, they tell us, just as they said of Stuart which the latter was the candidate.

"Governor Stuart has won by splendid service the right to be considered a straightforward and level headed man. He knows just what estimate to place upon the political frothings of men with an itch to seize upon the government of Pennsylvania.

He knows how mistaken honest men may be. He is in a position, through actual experience to size up the present situation. When Governor Stuart passes, he speaks with sincerity, and when he presides over a Republican meeting, as he did over the tremendous ovation to Tener, which aroused all Harrisburg on Monday night, he presides because he believes that it is the right and honest thing to do. When he says of Tener, as he did in his presentation speech, 'I am satisfied that he will do what he promises you he will do, and I say that with all sincerity,' he means precisely that.

A Fair Sample

The reproduction of extracts from Acheson's Washington Observer in 1905, when the former Congressman elected himself county chairman to lead the fight against the fusion of Democrats and Citizens, are not published as news items, but to show the motive that inspires Mr. Acheson in his present attack upon Republicanism and the State and national policies of the party that made him all he is, and from which he drew pay as a Congressman aggregating at least $60,000. Just because he was not continued in power Mr. Acheson is doing all that he can to wreck the Republican party, and to inflict untold damages upon the industrial and business interests that have been built up and thrived under Republican policies.

In his campaign Mr. Acheson has indorsed and is supporting a Congressman diametrically opposed to the interests of Washington county that he himself upheld for fourteen years. Lately his papers, the Observer and Reporter, have viciously attacked the wool schedules of the tariff bill, which he supported while in Congress. Mr. Acheson now denounces this schedule which the wool growers of Washington county united to have maintained in the Payne bill, yet in 1906, the last time he was elected to Congress by the Republicans, his Observer prints the following on October 3 of that year:

"The people of this county know that the Republican nominee for Congress has been a thorough-going Republican. He has stood by the President and his record in Congress has been one of actual achievements. . . . Remember what conditions were after the Wilson-Gorman tariff act was passed by a Democratic Congress. Remember who introduced the measure restoring the duty on wool."

These are editorial utterances of Acheson's own paper in 1906 when he was a candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket. Now Mr. Acheson denounces this same tariff he himself voted for to maintain the wool-growing industry of Washington county. His perfidy is but a fair sample of the inspiration of the whole Keystone movement which is founded upon discontent, disappointment, calumny and personal vituperation.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

In a Kansas city a bunch of girls have formed an "anti-tightwad society," the purpose being to boycott the stingy boys of the town. How nice of those girls to save the fellows money.

With birchings to help conspirators, it won't be nearly so difficult a job catching kings.

Berry men are making such endeavors for a good showing of straw votes that they have apparently forgotten all about the coming election. It will be vividly recalled to memory along about November 8 when the Keystone party will pass out of existence.

It doesn't matter much whether the amateur talent produces good poems or not, it takes much work for them to produce their efforts as it did Shakespeare to produce his.

The Wisconsin candidate for Governor promises to get married if he is elected. If he is not elected what will happen?

Mr. Acheson says he was the first man in the State to present the "dictation of the Penrose-Mulvihill machine." To his admission it might be added "because he wanted to be whole boss or none."

Not being satisfied with accusing Penrose with running the Republican and Democratic parties, to say nothing of the Prohibition party and numerous other affairs over the State, the charge is now being made that he is operating a church synd. This is supposedly the Presbyterian Synod. It might be just as well to throw the blame on him for everything that happens and save the trouble of looking up the real offender. And, by the way, we are doggone mad because of the acid in the river.

bottom. A company has the lake leased from the government, and laborers with forks shovel up the deposits which is sold to stockmen for salting stock. It also answers other requirements where coarse salt is used. The supply is practically unlimited, as the deposits form again after being removed.

While at Artesia Dr. Manon and Wm. Parks formed a camping party and went out on a hunt on two different occasions. The first time they drove 90 miles to the Staked Plains, which extend from New Mexico into Texas. This country is good grazing for cattle, but to reach it the party had to drive across a sandy desert, involving nearly a day's journey. They found abundance of small game, quail and rabbits. While encamped Paul Manon lost his way returning from a hunting expedition, and was adrift alone on the plains from one until five o'clock in the afternoon. He was found by a ranchman, who joined in the search. Paul was thirsty, but none the worse for his adventure.

The second hunt was up in the Sacramento mountains. The party drove over a hundred miles to reach the mountain, where they hunted for wild turkey and deer. Although they saw many deer and turkeys, they only bagged one deer and two turkeys. In the mountains they run up against zero weather and eight inches of snow. Dr. Manon brought back some fine venison steaks, which he distributed among his friends.

While the doctor thinks the southwest is a fine agricultural and stock raising country, he says he would not like to live there. It was a most interesting trip, but the experience, he says, makes him better contented with home conditions.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburgh, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.00. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50 c. Take your choice of Ceylon, English Breakfast, Assam, Oolong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi

A western dramatic film of unusual excellence at the Palace Theatre this week was "Pals of the Range." The story is that of the love of two cowboy pals for the same girl, the treachery of one and later his sacrifice of life and love for the friend and the girl he wronged. The principals are Jack Hartley and Jack Smythe
and the girl they both love, is Clara, the daughter of a ranchman. Both write her a letter of proposal and she writes replying rejecting Hartley and accepting Smythe. Hartley intercepts the letters, and changes the one rejecting him to the envelope addressed to Smythe. The latter believing himself rejected, goes off to the desert, and Clara, who thinks he is jilted marries Hartley. Afterwards he learns of Hartley's treachery and demands that the latter go after Smythe and bring him back. He goes, but is beset by Indians. Hartley arrives, and in the fight Hartley compels Smythe to retreat while he,
Hartley, covers the retreat. Hartley is slain and thus makes restitution for his treachery. All of the pictures have been unusually strong this week. Two illustrated songs rendered by Donald Harrison "The Fascinating Ragtime Slide," and "Southern Rose," are also strong features of the week.

New Duquesne—Pittsburg

Irish wit, mirth and patriotism will hold full sway at the Duquesne Theatre next week, when that most delightful of all Dion Doucicault plays of Old Erin. "The Shaughraun," will be given. Albert Morrison, who will enact the favorite role of Donn the Shaughraun, has had a fine training in Hibernian drama, having at one time been leading support with Joseph Murphy. Mary Hall will have her first Irish part in this play as Coun's sweetheart, the bewitching Moyn, and she is said to have a most charming brogue, and to be specially attractive in her portrayal of the peasant girls of Doucicault romance and comedy. The big sensational situation takes place amid the ruins of St. Bridget's Abbey, where arvey Duff seeks to entrap the thieves in ambush, but is foiled by a most unexpected and thrilling way. The supposed murder of Donn and the mock wake which follows, constitute one of the most uprisingly funny scenes ever conceived by the playwright of "Coolleen awn," "Kerry," and "Arrah-noogue."

The very name of the play recalls vivid memories to playgoers, not only of Coun and Moyn, but of Arto Neale, Father Dolan, Corry Kinela and Harvey Duff. The characters of this play are beyond doubt the best representative types to be found in the entire range of Irish drama.

The Grand—Pittsburg

Andrew Mack, the sweet singer of in's folk songs is to make his Pittsburg debut as a vaudeville star at the end next week. There is no dissent the proposition that Andrew Mack the sweetest singer of Erin's folk songs that the stage has known since the days of the lamented William J.
Lonan. The songs which he made famous in his various productions
such as "Iva Leaf," "Miles Aroon,"
"The Bohemia," will furnish him ample material for his vaudeville act.

The Grand's bill for next week braces many other important actions. None of these, however, will be more welcome than the act of Hettie Whittaker and P. Wilbur Hill. Miss Whittaker is the willowy woman who has been singing folk songs for a number of years and incidentally playing the piano while Mr. Hill plays the violin.
Miss Whittaker who stirred American audiences to vociferous applause by her rendition of the negro camp meeting ditty, "Will the Congregation Please Stand Up."

Seymour Brown and Nat Ayer, two young men who have scored heavily the last summer, are coming for the first engagement here. They play the piano and sing songs.

Kennedy, Nobody and Platty will be here with a singing and talking comedietta entitled "Mr. Nobody."
It is a merry melody of mirthful ditties and pertinent patter.

Anita Diaz will introduce her simian wonders. These monkeys it is asserted, fully establish the correctness of Darwin's theory and come very nearly proving Professor Garner's case: namely, that monkeys have a language of their own.

The four McHalleys are to do a variety of things. It is a mixed quartet the men and women performing equilibristic stunts on a high wires, acrobat and gymnastic feats, buck and wing dancing and vocaliza-tion.

The program for the forth coming week contain many other attractive announcements, including a moving picture show of more than ordinary interest.

The Nixon—Pittsburg

More than the usual amount of interest is attached to the performance at the Nixon Theatre next week. In the first place these performances will show Miss Blanche Bates in a line of work in which she has not been seen in several seasons.

Her new play "Nobody's Widow"
by the bright young Cleveland author, Avery Hopwood, gives her the opportunity for which she has been longing to show her many friends that she is at her very best in comedy. "No-body's Widow" has been described by Mr. Hopwood as "a comedy with its moments of pathos." The premier of this play took place Tuesday evening at Cleveland and Pittsburg will be the second city to see Miss Bates in her new comedy. The best known players in this company in support of Miss Bates are Bruce McRae, Adelaide Prince, Edith Campbell, Dorothy Shoemaker, Rex McDougall, Henry Schuman Heink and Westrop Saunders. The scenes are laid in Palm Beach, Fla. Only three cities will be visited by the Blanche Bates company on this tour. After a week each in Cleveland, Pittsburg and Baltimore, the company will go directly to New York and continue for the remainder of this season at one of Mr.
Belasco's own pretty metropolitan playhouses. There will be but one matinee at the Nixon during Miss Bates' engagement, on Saturday afternoon. The sale of seats will open Thursday, October 27, at the box office.

"For nearly four years Edwin S. Stuart has conducted the affairs of Pennsylvania as its chief executive," says the Philadelphia Inquirer. "In the campaign of 1906 he was the Republican candidate for Governor. Rarely has there been a political battle such as that was. Mr. Stuart had led an honorable life, but that fact did not prevent the vilifiers of Pennsylvania and the libelers of Philadelphia and the agitators from assailing him on the stump. The people were told that if elected the State would go to the dogs; that he did not own himself; that he was the candidate of the 'bosses,' and as such must bow to them. All sorts of evils were predicted.

"Not only was he the target for the coterie of political highwaymen in Philadelphia and for the hypocrites in policies everywhere to fire at but men entirely honest in their opinions—mistaken, but honest—argued and voted against him. Rudolph Blankenburg was one of those who stumped the State and did his best to defeat Stuart. William H. Berry was active in his denunciations.

"What happened? The majority of the people were not to be fooled. They supported Stuart and he was elected. And there has followed an administration that has proved to be a model. There is, and can be, no just criticism of the Stuart administration. On the contrary it is admitted even by his former fierce opponents that the Republican administration of the affairs of Pennsylvania stands without a blemish.

"Today another Republican candidate, pledged to carry out the Stuart policies is before the people, and once more the same agitation is heard throughout the State. Tener cannot own himself, they tell us, just as they said of Stuart which the latter was the candidate.

"Governor Stuart has won by splendid service the right to be considered a straightforward and level headed man. He knows just what estimate to place upon the political frothings of men with an itch to seize upon the government of Pennsylvania. He knows how mistaken honest men may be. He is in a position, through actual experience to size up the present situation. When Governor Stuart passes, he speaks with sincerity, and when he presides over a Republican meeting, as he did over the tremendous ovation to Tener, which aroused all Harrisburg on Monday night, he presides because he believes that it is the right and honest thing to do. When he says of Tener, as he did in his presentation speech, 'I am satisfied that he will do what he promises you he will do, and I say that with all sincerity,' he means precisely that.

The reproduction of extracts from Acheson's Washington Observer in 1905, when the former Congressman elected himself county chairman to lead the fight against the fusion of Democrats and Citizens, are not justified as news items, but to show the motive that inspires Mr. Acheson in his present attack upon Republicanism and the State and national policies of the party that made him all he is, and from which he drew pay as a Congressman aggregating at least $60,000. Just because he was not continued in power Mr. Acheson is doing all that he can to wreck the Republican party, and to inflict untold damages upon the industrial and business interests that have been built up and thrived under Republican policies.

In his campaign Mr. Acheson has indorsed and is supporting a Congressman diametrically opposed to the interests of Washington county that he himself upheld for fourteen years. Lately his papers, the Observer and Reporter, have viciously attacked the wool schedules of the tariff bill, which he supported while in Congress. Mr. Acheson now denounces this schedule which the wool growers of Washington county united to have maintained in the Payne bill, yet in 1906, the last time he was elected to Congress by the Republicans, his Observer prints the following on October 3 of that year:

"The people of this county know that the Republican nominee for Congress has been a thorough-going Republican. He has stood by the President and his record in Congress has been one of actual achievements. . . . Remember what conditions were after the Wilson-Gorman tariff act was passed by a Democratic Congress. Remember who introduced the measure restoring the duty on wool."

These are editorial utterances of Acheson's own paper in 1906 when he was a candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket. Now Mr. Acheson denounces this same tariff he himself voted for to maintain the wool-growing industry of Washington county. His perfidy is but a fair sample of the inspiration of the whole Keystone movement which is founded upon discontent, disappointment, calumny and personal vituperation.

With whips to help conspirators, it won't be nearly so difficult a job catching kings.

Berry men are making such endeavors for a good showing of straw votes that they have apparently forgotten all about the coming election. It will be vividly recalled to memory along about November 8 when the Keystone party will pass out of existence.

It doesn't matter much whether the amateur talent produces good poems or not, it takes much work for them to produce their efforts as it did Shakespeare to produce his.

Mr. Acheson says he was the first man in the State to present the "dictation of the Penrose-Mulvihill machine." To his admission it might be added "because he wanted to be whole boss or none."

Not being satisfied with accusing Penrose with running the Republican and Democratic parties, to say nothing of the Prohibition party and numerous other affairs over the State, the charge is now being made that he is operating a church school. This is supposedly the Presbyterian Synod. It might be just as well to throw the blame on him for everything that happens and save the trouble of looking up the real offender. And, by the way, we are doggone mad because of the acid in the river.

Special for Saturday and Monday only 4 oz. bottle vanilla 35c. 35 S. and H. green stamps free. Bargers.

bottom. A company has the lake leased from the government, and laborers with forks shovel up the deposits which is sold to stockmen for salting stock. It also answers other requirements where coarse salt is used. The supply is practically unlimited, as the deposits form again after being removed.

While at Artesia Dr. Manon and Wm. Parks formed a camping party and went out on a hunt on two different occasions. The first time they drove 90 miles to the Staked Plains, which extend from New Mexico into Texas. This country is good grazing for cattle, but to reach it the party had to drive across a sandy desert, involving nearly a day's journey. They found abundance of small game, quail and rabbits. While encamped Paul Manon lost his way returning from a hunting expedition, and was adrift alone on the plains from one until five o'clock in the afternoon. He was found by a ranchman, who joined in the search. Paul was thirsty, but none the worse for his adventure.

The second hunt was up in the Sacramento mountains. The party drove over a hundred miles to reach the mountain, where they hunted for wild turkey and deer. Although they saw many deer and turkeys, they only bagged one deer and two turkeys. In the mountains they run up against zero weather and eight inches of snow. Dr. Manon brought back some fine venison steaks, which he distributed among his friends.

While the doctor thinks the southwest is a fine agricultural and stock raising country, he says he would not like to live there. It was a most interesting trip, but the experience, he says, makes him better contented with home conditions.

BACHELOR GIRLS ARE ENTERTAINED

Miss Manie Moffitt entertained the members of the Bachelor Girls club of Charleroi and a number of friends at her home on Crest avenue last evening at a Hallowe'en party. The evening was pleasantly spent with diversions arranged by the hostess and her chum, Miss Lavina Schafer of Smock. There were about 25 or 30 young people present. A lunch was served. Assisting Miss Moffitt in entertaining was Miss Schafer and Mrs. E. R. Abel.

WOMENS WOES

Charleroi Women Are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys that only helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. William Stopp, 214 Second street, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for five years and consider the aches to be unequalled for kidney disease. I suffered for some time from backache and was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions were scanty and often contained a sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and procuring a box at Piper Bros. Drug Store, I began their use. They benefited me greatly and I have since kept a supply on hand." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Public Sale

I will offer at public sale at my residence on Saturday, October 29, at 1 p. m., the following household goods: Parlor suit, hall carpet, matting, buffet, porch rocker, gas range, lawn mower, Morris chair and China closet. Terms cash. David Stewart, 327 Crest avenue. 65t5

A wedding of much interest to Charleroi people takes place next week at St. Peter's Catholic church, McKeesport. The principals are Miss Clementine Didat and Simon Delchevalerie, Jr., both formerly of Charleroi. The bride is a popular and accomplished young lady and has many friends here. Mr. Delchevalerie is a young man of sterling character and holds a responsible position with the Plate Glass factory at Tarentum. The wedding is to be a quiet affair, and after an extended trip the happy couple will reside in Tarentum.

Buying Food by Mail

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburgh, who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.00. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10 pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 30c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 3 lbs of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50c. Take your choice of Oatmeal, English Breakfast, Assam, Oolong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send cash for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

MORE BANK TALK

Did it ever occur to you why all good business men keep a checking account with a bank? We'll tell you. It enables them to keep their funds in a more secure place than the office safe. It gives them a better standing in the business world. It enables them to pay their bills by check, the returned check being an undisputable receipt. Individuals find a checking account very convenient and a source of saving. Money in one's pocket is often spent on the spur of the moment, while one disposed to think twice before drawing on his balance in the bank. Get the Savings Habit. Lay up for a rainy day. AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi

excellence at the Palace Theatre this
week was "Pals of the Range." The
boy pals for the same girl, the treachery of one and later his sacrifice of life and love for the friend and the girl he wronged. The principals
are Jack Hartley and Jack Smythe
and the girl they both love, is Clara,
the daughter of a ranchman. Both
write her a letter of proposal and she writes replies rejecting Hartley and accepting Smythe. Hartley
intercepts the letters, and changes
the one rejecting him to the envelope
addressed to Smythe. The latter believing himself rejected, goes off to
the desert, and Clara, who thinks
he is jilted, marries Hartley. Afterwards he learns of Hartley's treachery
and demands that the latter go after Smythe and bring him back. He goes, but is beset by Indians. Hartley arrives, and in the fight Hartley
compels Smythe to retreat while he,
Hartley, covers the retreat. Hartley
his treachery. All of the pictures have
illustrated songs rendered by Donald Garrison "The Fascinating Ragtime Glide," and "Southern Rose," are also strong features of the week.

hold full sway at the Duquesne Theatre next week, when that most de-
of Old Erin. "The Shaughraun,"
will be given. Albert Morrison,
who will enact the favorite role of Conn the Shaughraun, has had a fine raining in Hibernian drama, having
will have her first Irish part in this city as Conn's sweetheart, the bewitching Moyn, and she is said to have a most charming brogue, and to be especially attractive in her portrayal of the peasant girls of Doucicault romance and comedy. The big sensational situation takes place amid the
ruins of St. Bridget's Abbey, where Harvey Duff seeks to entrap the lovers in ambush, but is foiled by Conn in a most unexpected and thrilling way. The supposed murder of Conn and the mock wake which follows, constitute one of the most up-to-date and funny scenes ever conceived even by the playwright of "Coolleen awn," "Kerry," and "Arrah-na-ogue."
The very name of the play recalls vivid memories to playgoers, not only of Conn and Moyn, but of Arto-Neale, Father Dolan, Corry Kin-neela and Harvey Duff. The charac-
found in the entire range of Irish
drama.

The Grand—Pittsburg

Andrew Mack, the sweet singer of Erin's folk songs is to make his Pittsburg debut as a vaudeville star at the Grand next week. There is no dissent
the proposition that Andrew Mack
the sweetest singer of Erin's folk
songs that the stage has known since
the days of the lamented William J.
Macdonald. The songs which he made famous in his various productions
such as "Iva Leaf," "Miles Aroon," "Arrahmapogue," and "The Prince of Bohemia," will furnish him ample material for his vaudeville act.
The Grand's bill for next week embraces many other important attractions. None of these, however, will be more welcome than the act of Miss Willette Whittaker and P. Willour Jl. Miss Whittaker is the willowy young woman who has been singing gro-dialect songs for a number of years and incidentally playing the piano while Mr. Hill plays the violin. was Miss Whittaker who stirred American audiences to vociferous

camp meeting dirge, "Will the Congregation Please Stand Up."

the piano and sing songs.

be here with a singing and talking
comedietta entitled "Mr. Nobody."
It is a merry medley of mirthful ditties and pertinent patter.

is asserted, fully establish the correctness of Darwin's theory and come
language of their own.

quartet the men and women performing equilibristic stunts on a high wire, acrobat and gymnastic feats, buck and wing dancing and vocaliza-
tion.

picture show of more than ordinary
interest.

terest is attached to the performance
at the Nixon Theatre next week. In
the first place these performances
line of work in which she has not been seen in several seasons.

by the bright young Cleveland author,
Avery Hopwood, gives her the oppor-
body's Widow" has been described by Mr. Hopwood as "a comedy with its
moments of pathos." The premier of
this play took place Tuesday evening
at Cleveland and Pittsburg will be
players in this company in support of Miss Bates are Bruce McKac, Adelaide Prince, Edith Campbell, Dorothy
Shoemaker, Rex McDougall, Henry Schuman Heink and Westthrop Saundere. The scenes are laid in Palm Beach, Fla. Only three cities will be visited by the Blanche Bates com-
more, the company will go directly to
New York and continue for the remainder of this season at one of Mr.
Belasco's own pretty metropolitan
playhouses. There will be but one
matinee at the Nixon during Miss Bates' engagement, on Saturday afternoon. The sale of seats will open Thursday, October 27, at the box office.

HEBREW AID SOCIETY ARRANGE ANNUAL DANCE

Much Anticipated Affair to be Held in Charleroi Next Wednesday.

The Hebrew Ladies Aid Society of the Monongahela valley, which has a membership from many towns in this vicinity, is making arrangements for the fourth annual dance to be given in the Bank of Charleroi hall, next Wednesday night, from 8 to 1 o'clock. Jenkins Orchestra will furnish the music. The committee arranging the affair consists of Mrs. J. Samberg of Fayette City, Mrs. L. Ayner of California and Mrs. Joseph Lichter of Charleroi.

Entertains Class

Miss Nell Ryland entertained the Sunday School class of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church of which she is teacher at a Halloween party at her home on Meadow avenue last evening. There were 22 little tots present, their ages ranging between six and nine years. It was a typical Halloween party and Halloween games were played. The refreshments were also typical of the time of the year. A flash light picture of the group was taken. The party dispersed with the singing of several songs.

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin, and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines, but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual experience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases will do.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness in the back or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, diabetes high colored urine, bedwetting, and all other kidney and liver diseases. It makes anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.

Observer Files Reveling In- quintious Character of Former County Boss

Washington Observer, Oct. 16, 1905—"The fusion movement offers nothing in the way of substantial and efficient administration which is not offered by the Republican party. It offers less in the ability and efficiency of the individuals who will be entrusted in the care of the people's business. And back of the movement are those alleged Republicans who have for years enjoyed public office and public favors; men who worked for the Republican party while they were in office, but now out they have no personal ends to serve in being for the party or in advocating its principles and hope to gain something by disrupting it."

Washington Observer, Oct. 10, 1905—"When the Prohibitionists charge the Republican party with criminal extravagance, with paying officer more than they are entitled to for their services and for the business done; when they charge that assessments were raised in order to secure the money for alleged extravagances they state merely what they have heard gossiped about by irresponsible parties who are seeking political control statements which are both untruthful and misleading."

Washington Observer, Oct. 3, 1905—"The campaign is one of vital interest to the welfare of the county. Republicans should be loyal to their cause. There can be no half way round taken. A man is either for or against his party. Consistency is as much of a jewel in politics as in the other affairs of life."

Washington Observer, Oct. 25, 1905—"No true Republican looking for the future interests and welfare of this nation, of this State and of this county can afford to desert the ticket at this time. We ask: Are any of the Republicans of Washington county, after considering these things and looking to the future, Republicans who really believe in the preservation of Republican principles and believe that the best things in our

American form of Government can be secured through Republican rule, willing to take the chances of turning the country over to the Democracy?"

Washington Observer, Nov. 7, 1905—"To the voters of Washington county:—Is it not most shameful that good and honest men should be attacked, should be charged, indiscriminately with being thieves by men who held office before them and whose records are not better, if as good, as those whom they accused? These attacks from former office holders and disappointed office seekers have been most shameful. When the election is over many of them will no doubt upon reflection and consideration, regret what they said about their neighbors—about honest Republican officials. They will feel like a man who has just got over a debauch."

CONGRESSMAN TENER'S TRADUCERS MUST APPEAR IN CRIMINAL COURT

Under the heading of "Acheson Said," the Washington Record is reproducing extracts of editorials and news articles from former Congressman E. F. Acheson's personal organ, the Washington Observer, during the campaign of 1906. That was the year when W. H. Berry was a candidate for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket, as well as the time when the first concerted fight was directed against the domination of Mr. Acheson whose political sway over Washington county was more despotic than was ever exercised over Pennsylvania by the late M. S. Quay. By the organization of the Citizens party in the county and a fusion with the Democrats Mr. Acheson was given a fight that he considered so grave that he elected himself county chairman to personally direct his forces against the rebels who threatened his supremacy.

In order to cover up his own political iniquities, Mr. Acheson's newspapers directed their energy to preaching party regularity and danger to the national Republican policies. In view of the fact that Mr. Acheson is now the chief boss of the Keystone party in Washington county, and his papers are working as hard against the Republican party as they worked for it when Mr. Acheson was in Congress and banded out the Washington county plums, these reproductions from Acheson's Observer furnish entertaining reading. Some of them follow:

"Most of the taxpayers of Washington county have not forgotten what it meant to be under Democratic rule and administration. No Republican can afford at this time to desert the party because a few men dissatisfied with its affairs and unable to satisfy their personal ambitions, have joined forces with the Democracy."

"These Citizens leaders care nothing for the Republican party, nor for its principles. They care less for reform. They are in this political campaign for their own profit. And the Republicans of this county are beginning to realize the meaning and forces of these men to defeat the Republican candidates. They are the enemies of the party and worse than the enemies of good government."

"Today efforts are being made to disrupt the party in this county. There are some men who claim to be Republicans who are fighting today to shoulder to shoulder with the enemies of the Republican party for their own personal and selfish ends, a few county officers. And these traitor Republicans, baffled in their ambitions, are appealing to the good people of this county to vote for men who are neither

Albert Thomas, Formerly of Charleroi, Favored for Good Job.

Albert G. Thomas of New Orleans, formerly of Charleroi, and a son of Capt. G. W. Thomas, has received the contract of completing a drainage canal in Louisiana near New Iberia. The canal when finished will be about 9 miles long and will be 4 feet across top and 30 feet wide on the bottom, with 6 feet of water. The operation of this canal will reclaim many thousands of acres of unclaimed land, besides being of immense value to all other lands tributary, and gives great satisfaction to all the citizens and taxpayers.

Dr. Manon Describes Conditions in New Mexico.

An exhibition of white Indian corn, some remarkably fine specimens of pop corn, maize, peanuts, Kaffir corn and a small bale of alfalfa in Pipers' drug store window is attracting much local attention, particularly when it is known that the exhibit is the product from the farm of two former Charleroi citizens—Wm. Parks and J. W. Springer, at Artesia, New Mexico. Their specimens were brought back by Dr. J. W. Manon, who, with his 11-year-old son, Paul, spent a month or more in that section of the country.

Dr. Manon returned this week and gives a most interesting account of his trip and observations. He states that Mr. Parks, who went to Artesia for the benefit of his daughter's health, is making good there. He is noted as one of the most progressive farmers and bears the distinction of producing the best "first year" crops in that section. Artesia is in the centre of a most fertile country, where nearly everything can be produced. The land is irrigated by artesian wells from 600 to 1,200 feet in depth, and five crops of alfalfa, which is one of the staple cash crops, can be raised in a season. Cotton, peanuts and melons are also produced in profusion. Dr. Manon says that the melon crop is a marvel, and he saw better melons fed to the hogs than are ever bought in Charleroi.

One of the marvels of that country is a shallow salt lake 21 miles from Artesia. The water is not more than 15 inches deep and the salt deposits a crust about an inch thick along the

Mrs. Ida Belle Hamilton of Rouses, in behalf of herself, has filed a suit for $25,000 damages against the Pittsburg Railways company, as a result of the accident at the Beechwood boulevard crossing of the railways company, near Charleroi, the latter part of June, when the husband of Mrs. Hamilton and a son, Leroy Hamilton, were killed. A few weeks ago Mrs. Hamilton filed a suit for $50,000 damages against the railways company in behalf of her children, Annie E. Hamilton, Mary B. Hamilton and Robert Hamilton, all of whom were injured in the crossing accident. The Hamiltons with Miss Blanche Matheny of McKeesport, were in an automobile. Miss Matheny, who was also injured, has a suit pending against the Railways company. W. E. Wale of Pittsburg and McIlvaine and Williams of the Washington bar represent Mrs. Hamilton.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE ALONG RIVER

The U. S. Steamer Slackwater, Captain Jas. T. Nutt, whose headquarters are at Lock No. 4, North Charleroi, is at present engaged with a large crew of men and boats putting in a large crib near Port Perry, extending from the shore wall up river, a distance of about 500 feet. This is the largest crib of the kind ever built on the Monongahela river. Three large sections 160 feet each are now in proper position, and are being filled with stone.

point, which are now in good order, and in place on the dam. They are used in time of low water and are a decided help in retaining a boating stage in the pool up as far as Lock No. 8. They are a great improvement over the old splash board system, which has become obsolete.

The U. S. dredge boat No. 1 and the Steamer Swan, are now deepening and widening the channel at the foot of Thirteenth street, Pittsburg.

Mark This, Mr. Voter!

From the Pittsburg Gazette Times.

THE Philadelphia Ledger aptly describes W. H. Berry, the Socialist and Democrat who is running for Governor, as one representing "no definite political ideas or known political allegiance." It says: "His party record is tortuous; his financial record dubious. He has impressed himself on the public clearly as a self-seeker." This is the man, Mr. Republican of little faith, that you are being asked by deserters to support for Governor in preference to John K. Tener, all his life a Republican and nominee of your party. "It is Berry who is trying to elect 11 Democrats to Congress from Pennsylvania. It is Berry's followers who are attempting to defeat Republican nominees for Legislature—in most cases with sorehead candidates who were fairly defeated at the Republican primaries. It is Berry who was lauded for two or three weeks hand running in this county by D. Clarence Gibboney, whose speeches were too foul, obscene and filthy to be reported in the newspapers. It is Berry to whom southern and eastern European Socialists of this county are looking to give them the kind of government and license they want. Isn't that a fine prospect for Pennsylvania? Smash the scheme by voting for the entire Republican ticket, and do your share toward forwarding restoration of complete prosperity!

The prizes of the best and most comic dressed persons participating in the Halloween celebration here Monday night will be awarded immediately following the parade. The reviewing stand will be at the corner of Fifth street and McKean avenue, front of the railroad station. All contestants are supposed to march there for inspection by the judges, after the parade.

Thousands will be in costume. It is expected. The phantom brigade will in all probability be here, and it may be assisted in its work by phantoms from other places along the valley.

Trial Calls to Mind Some of Roosevelt Statements.

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail:
Dear Sir—While reading the account of Mr. Tener's suit against E. A. Van Valkenberg for criminal libel, I recalled the words employed by Theodore Roosevelt while addressing the great meeting in the Pittsburg Exposition Building. On the stage back of him were seated most of the leaders of the Pittsburg Civic Commission, as well as a large number of Pittsburg's leading citizens. At the close of one of his strongest speeches for honesty in public life Col. Roosevelt turned to those back of him on the stage and in substance said: "And to you, Mr. R-former, I wish to say that there is much in Pennsylvania for which you should be thankful," and then he enumerated many of Pennsylvania's excellent laws and commended the manner in which they are being administered. After strongly advising moderation and common sense in all reform movements he clinched his arguments by saying: "I make no fine distinction between two great commandments, 'thou shalt not steal' and 'thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'"

Very respectfully,
Charleroi, Oct. 29. Citizen.

E. E. Scheikase of Uniontown was a Charleroi visitor last evening.

Philadelphia North American Editor Is Held Under $5,000 Bail for Court Trial.

Mr. Tener the Only Witness Examined at Preliminary Hearing in Recently Instituted Libel Suit.

Before Police Magistrate Gallagher in Philadelphia yesterday Congressman John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor, emphatically denied under oath that he was an "associate of swindlers," as alleged in the Philadelphia North American, and after a three hour hearing, Edward A. Van Valkenberg, editor and president of the newspaper publishing the statement, was held in $5,000 bail for trial on the charge of criminally libelling the gubernatorial candidate, who brought the prosecution. Rudolph Blankenburg, a leader in many reform movements in Philadelphia and in the State, furnished the bond.

Mr. Tener was the only witness examined. He was represented by A. S. L. Shields and Francis Shunk Brown, and after a long examination by his attorneys he was subjected to a long and severe cross examination by former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mr. Van Valkenberg.

The gubernatorial candidate in his direct examination, generally, and specifically denied every charge made against him. The North American began its attack on October 18, and has continued daily ever since, charges that "John K. Tener is the business friend and associate of swindlers, convicted and unconvicted," that he "sold his name as president to a fraudulent corporation formed and conducted by these men, the consideration they voted him on the day he was elected being a salary of $5,000 a year and $50,000 in stock," that "by the use of his name as President and director of the swindling concern they have sold its worthless stock to the public."

Mr. Tener denied all these charges and many others brought to his attention. He admitted that he had been induced to become president of the National Public Utilities Corporation by Frank L. Smart and William L. Chrisman, but that he resigned in March of this year after serving two months. He also admitted that he was given $50,000 in stock, but added that he had returned it because he had not earned it. He testified that he believed the company was legitimate and believed the men who had induced him to get into the company were honest and still believes they were honest.

Touching on the sale of his stock in the Security Life and Annuity company, he denied that the sale was not above-board. As Mr. Tener was leaving the magistrate's office after the hearing he was given a cheer by some of his enthusiastic supporters, which the candidate smilingly acknowledged. Last night Mr. Tener was busy campaigning in Philadelphia, making addresses in four different wards.

Stuart's Indorsement

"For nearly four years Edwin S.
Stuart has conducted the affairs of Pennsylvania as its chief executive," says the Philadelphia Inquirer. "In the campaign of 1906 he was the Republican candidate for Governor. Rarely has there been a political battle such as that was. Mr. Stuart had led an honorable life, but that fact did not prevent the vilifiers of Pennsylvania and the libelers of Philadelphia and the agitators from assailing him on the stump. The people were told that if elected the State would go to the dogs; that he did not own himself; that he was the candidate of the 'bosses,' and as such must bow to them. All sorts of evils were predicted.

"Not only was he the target for the coterie of political highwaymen in Philadelphia and for the hypocrites in policies everywhere to fire at but men entirely honest in their opinions—mistaken, but honest—argued and voted against him. Rudolph Blaken-burg was one of those who stumped the State and did his best to defeat Stuart. William H. Berry was active in his denunciations.

"What happened? The majority of the people were not to be fooled.
They supported Stuart and he was elected. And there has followed an administration that has proved to be a model. There is, and can be no just criticism of the Stuart administration. On the contrary it is admitted even by his former fierce opponents that the Republican administration of the affairs of Pennsylvania stands without a blemish.

"Today another Republican candidate, pledged to carry out the Stuart policies is before the people, and once more the same agitation is heard throughout the State. Tender cannot own himself, they tell us, just as they said of Stuart which the latter was the candidate.

"Governor Stuart has won by splendid service the right to be considered a straightforward and level headed man. He knows just what estimate to place upon the political frothings of men with an itch to seize upon the government of Pennsylvania.
He knows how mistaken honest men may be. He is in a position, through actual experience to size up the present situation. When Governor Stuart passes, he speaks with sincerity, and when he presides over a Republican meeting, as he did over the tremendous oration to Tener, which aroused all Harrisburg on Monday night, he presides because he believes that it is the right and honest thing to do. When he says of Tener, as he did in his presentation speech, 'I am satisfied that he will do what he promises you he will do, and I say that with all sincerity,' he means precisely that.

The reproduction of extracts from Acheson's Washington Observer in 1905, when the former Congressman elected himself county chairman to lead the fight against the fusion of Democrats and Citizens, are not qualified as news items, but to show the motive that inspires Mr. Acheson in his present attack upon Republicanism and the State and national policies of the party that made him all he is, and from which he drew pay as a Congressman aggregating at least $60,000. Just because he was not continued in power Mr. Acheson is doing all that he can to wreck the Republican party, and to inflict untold damages upon the industrial and business interests that have been built up and thrived under Republican policies.

In his campaign Mr. Acheson has indorsed and is supporting a Congressman diametrically opposed to the interests of Washington county that he himself upheld for fourteen years.
Lately his papers, the Observer and Reporter, have viciously attacked the wool schedules of the tariff bill, which he supported while in Congress. Mr.

Acheson now denounces this schedule which the wool growers of Washington county united to have maintained in the Payne bill, yet in 1906, the last time he was elected to Congress by the Republicans, his Observer prints the following on October 3 of that year:

"The people of this county know that the Republican nominee for Congress has been a thorough-going Republican. He has stood by the President and his record in Congress has been one of actual achievements. * * *
Remember what conditions were after the Wilson-Gorman tariff act was passed by a Democratic Congress. Remember who introduced the measure restoring the duty on wool."

These are editorial utterances of Acheson's own paper in 1906 when he was a candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket. Now Mr. Acheson denounces this same tariff he himself voted for to maintain the wool-growing industry of Washington county. His perfidy is but a fair sample of the inspiration of the whole Keystone movement which is founded upon discontent, disappointment, calumny and personal vituperation.

the stingy boys of the town. How nice of those girls to save the fellows

With wharps to help conspirators, it won't be nearly so difficult a job catching kings.

Berry men are making such endeavors for a good showing of straw votes that they have apparently forgotten all about the coming election. It will be vividly recalled to memory along about November 4 when the Keystone party will pass out of existence.

It doesn't matter much whether the amateur talent produces good poems or not, it takes much work for them to produce their efforts as it did Shakespeare to produce his.

The Wisconsin candidate for Governor promises to get married if he is elected. If he is not elected what will happen?

Mr. Acheson says he was the first man in the State to present the "dictation of the Penrose-Mulvihill machine." To his admission it might be added "because he wanted to be whole boss or none."

Not being satisfied with accusing Penrose with running the Republican and Democratic parties, to say nothing of the Prohibition party and numerous other affairs over the State, the charge is now being made that he is operating a church synod. This is supposedly the Presbyterian Synod. It might be just as well to throw the blame on him for everything that happens and save the trouble of looking up the real offender. And, by the way, we are doggone mad because of the acid in the river.

While at Artesia Dr. Manon and Wm. Parks formed a camping party and went out on a hunt on two different occasions. The first time they drove 90 miles to the Staked Plains, which extend from New Mexico into Texas.
This country is good grazing for cattle, but to reach it the party had to drive across a sandy desert, involving nearly a day's journey. They found abundance of small game, quail and rabbits. While encamped Paul Manon lost his way returning from a hunting expedition, and was adrift alone on the plains from one until five o'clock in the afternoon. He was found by a ranchman, who joined in the search. Paul was thirsty, but none the worse for his adventure.

The second hunt was up in the Sacramento mountains. The party drove over a hundred miles to reach the mountain, where they hunted for wild turkey and deer. Although they saw many deer and turkeys, they only bagged one deer and two turkeys.
In the mountains they run up against zero weather and eight inches of snow. Dr. Manon brought back some fine venison steaks, which he distributed among his friends.

While the doctor thinks the southwest is a fine agricultural and stock raising country, he says he would not like to live there. It was a most interesting trip, but the experience, he says, makes him better contented with home conditions.

cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or im-

A recent development of the mail order business is the buying by mail of food. This system was inaugurated in this section last fall by McCann and Co., of Pittsburg. Who sold 10-pound pails of Butterine at $2.00. The effort was so successful that they have decided to extend their plan this year.

As before, they will send you a 10-pound pail of finest Creamery Butterine at $2.00. As this is regular 23c Butterine, and cheap at that; you save 80c on each order.

Offer No. 2 includes the 10-pound pail of Butterine and 5 lbs of 25c Coffee, which they ship for $3.00, saving you 55c on the order.

The third offer takes 10 lbs of Butterine, 5 lbs of 25c Coffee and 1 lb of 60c Tea all for $3.50, or a saving of 85 cents.

A fourth offer includes the 10 lbs of Butterine and 8 lbs of 40c Tea at $3.00, or a saving of 50 c. Take your choice of O-yon, English Breakfast A-sara, Olong, Japan or Young Hyson teas.

These values are guaranteed and are certain to please you. Send check for a trial order to McCann and Co., Pittsburg, Pa. They pay express charges to Charleroi and vicinity.

Did it ever occur to you why all good business men keep a checking account with a bank? We'll tell you. It enables them to keep their funds in a more secure place than the office safe. It gives them a better standing in the business world. It enables them to pay their bills by check, the returned check being an undisputable receipt.

Individuals find a checking ac-source of saving. Money in one's pocket is often spent on the spur of the moment, while one disposed to think twice before drawing on his balance in the bank.

alliance at the Palace Theatre this week was "Pals of the Range." The
pals for the same girl, the society of one and later his sacrifice of life and love for the friend and girl he wronged. The principals Jack Hartley and Jack Smythe the girl they both love, is Clara daughter of a ranchman. Both write her a letter of proposal and accepting Smythe. Hartley rejects the letters, and changes one rejecting him to the envelope addressed to Smythe. The latter being himself rejected, goes off to desert, and Clara, who thinks he is jilted marries Hartley. Afterwards he learns of Hartley's treachery demands that the latter go after him and bring him back. He is, but is beset by Indians Hartley res, and in the fight Hartley kills Smyth to retreat while he, they, covers the retreat. Hartley win and thus makes restitution for treachery. All of the pictures have unusually strong this week. Two crated songs rendered by Dunarison "The Fascinating Ragtime e," and "Southern Rose," are strong features of the week.

ish wit, mirth and partitism will full sway at the Duquesne The-next week, when that most de-ful of all Dion Doucicault plays Old Erin. "The Shaughraun," be given. Albert Morrison, will enact the favorite role of the Shaughraun, has had a fine ing in Hibernian drama, having me time being leading support.
Joseph Murphy. Mary Hall have her first Irish part in this as Conn's sweetheart, the being Moya, and she is said to a most charming brogue, and to specially attractive in her portray-the peasant girls of Doucicault ance and comedy. The big sensa-situation takes place amid the of St. Bridget's Abbey, where ey Duff seeks to entrap the s in ambush, but is foiled by in a most unexpected and thrill-way. The supposed murder of and the mock wake which folconstitute one of the most upously funny scenes ever conceived
by the playwright of "Coolleen Kerry," and "Arrah-nae." A very name of the play recalls memories to playgoers, not of Conn and Moya, but of Arto ale, Father Dolan, Corry Kin-and Harvey Duff. The characof this play are beyond doubt est representative types to be in the entire range of Irish draw Mack, the sweet singer of s folk songs is to make his Pitts-debut as a vaudeville star at the next week. There is no dissenproposition that Andrew Mack sweetest singer of Erin's folk that the stage has known since ays of the lamented William J.

on. The songs which he made is in his various productions is "Ira Leaf," "Miles Aroon," ahmapogue" and "The Prince hemia," will furnish him ample tal for his vaudeville act.
Grand's bill for next week ces many other important at-ons. None of these, however, is more welcome than the act of the Whittaker and P. Wilbur Miss Whittaker is the willowy
woman who has been singing dialect songs for a number of and incidentally playing the obilo Mr. Hill plays the violin Miss Whittaker who stirr can audiences to vociferous

camp meeting ditties. "Will the Congregation Please Stand Up."

the piano and sing songs.

Kennedy, Nobody and Platty will
be here with a singing and talking comedetta entitled "Mr. Nobody."
It is a merry medley of mirthful ditties and pertinent patter.

is asserted, fully establish the correctness of Drawa's theory and come very nearly proving Professor Garner's
language of their own.

quartet the men and women performing equilibristic stunts on a high
wires, acrobat and gymnastic feats,
buck and wing dancing and vocaliza-
tion.

announcements, including a moving
picture show of more than ordinary
interest.

terest is attached to the performance
at the Nixon Theatre next week. In
the first place these performances
line of work in which she has not
been seen in several seasons.

by the bright young Cleveland author, Avery Hopwood, gives her the oppor-
body's Widow" has been described by Mr. Hopwood as "a comedy with its
moments of pathos." The premier of
this play took place Tuesday evening
at Cleveland and Pittsburg will be
players in this company in support of Miss Bates are Bruce McRae, Adelaide Prince, Edith Campbell, Dorothy
Shoemaker, Rex McDougall, Henry Schuman Heink and Westrop Sam-ders. The scenes are laid in Palm Beach, Fla. Only three cities will be visited by the Blanche Bates com-
more, the company will go directly to
New York and continue for the remainder of this season at one of Mr.
Belasco's own pretty metropolitan
playhouses. There will be but one
matinee at the Nixon during Miss Bates' engagement, on Saturday afternoon. The sale of seats will open Thursday, October 27, at the box office.

That Cold Room

on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period.
That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time.

Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font.
Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle,

ARRANGE ANNUAL DANCE

Much Anticipated Affair to be Held in Charleroi Next Wednesday.

The Hebrew Ladies Aid Society of the Monongahela valley, which has a membership from many towns in this vicinity, is making arrangements for the fourth annual dance to be given in the Bank of Charleroi hall, next Wednesday night, from 8 to 1 o'clock. Jenkins Orchestra will furnish the music. The committee arranging the affair consists of Mrs. J. Samberg of Fayette City, Mrs. L. Avner of California and Mrs. Joseph Lichter of Charleroi.

Entertains Class

Miss Nell Ryland entertained the Sunday School class of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church of which she is teacher at a Halloween party at her home on Meadow avenue last evening. There were 22 little tots present, their ages ranging between six and nine years. It was a typical Halloween party and Halloween games were played. The refreshments were also typical of the time of the year. A flash light picture of the group was taken. The party dispersed with the singing of several songs.

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart.

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin, and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 on medicines, but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville, Pa.

This letter will not surprise many good people in Charleroi and vicinity who know from actual experience what Thompson's Barosma, the safe and sane treatment and certain cure for all kidney, liver and bladder diseases will do.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness in the back or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Hennings sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, diabetes high colored urine, bedwetting, and all other kidney and liver diseases. It makes anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood.

Observer Files Reveling Character of Former County Boss

Washington Observer, Oct. 16 1905—"The fusion movement offers nothing in the way of substantial and efficient administration which is not offered by the Republican party. It offers less in the ability and efficiency of the individuals who will be entrusted in the care of the people's business. And back of the movement are those alleged Republicans who have for years enjoyed public office and public favors; men who worked for the Republican party while they were in office, but now out they have no personal ends to serve in being for the party or in advocating its principles and hope to gain something by disrupting it."

Washington Observer, Oct. 10, 1905—"When the Prohibitionists charge the Republican party with criminal extravagance, with paying officer more than they are entitled to for their services and for the business done; when they charge that assessments were raised in order to secure the money for alleged extravagances they state merely what they have heard gossiped about by irresponsible parties who are seeking political control statements which are both untruthful and misleading."

Washington Observer, Oct. 3, 1905—"The campaign is one of vital interest to the welfare of the county. Republicans should be loyal to their cause. There can be no half way round taken. A man is either for or against his party. Consistency is as much of a jewel in politics as in the other affairs of life."

Washington Observer, Oct. 25, 1905—"No true Republican looking for the future interests and welfare of this nation, of this State and of this county can afford to desert the ticket at this time. We ask: Are any of the Republicans of Washington county, after considering these things and looking to the future, Republicans who really believe in the preservation of Republican principles and believe that the best things in our American form of Government can be secured through Republican rule, willing to take the chances of turning the country over to the Democracy?"

Washington Observer, Nov. 7, 1905—"To the voters of Washington county—is it not most shameful that good and honest men should be attacked, should be charged, indiscriminately with being thieves by men who held office before them and whose records are not better, if as good, as those whom they accused? These attacks from former office holders and disappointed office seekers have been most shameful. When the election is over many of them will no doubt upon reflection and consideration, regret what they said about their neighbors—about honest Republican officials. They will feel like a man who has just got over a debauch."
